

White Waltham Governor profiles

Cliff Warne

Cliff has been a Governor at White Waltham since 2018 and chair of Governors and Director of the Trust since 2019. As a parent of four children, some of which still attend school within the trust, Cliff is passionate about the Trust providing the best outcome for every child in a safe and happy environment. Professionally, Cliff has held director roles within Engineering companies and has over 20 years of leadership experience, developing teams and improving performance. Cliff has also volunteered as a Teaching Assistant within the trust.

Clive Haines

Clive has been a governor for many years within the Royal Borough of Windsor and Maidenhead. He also holds the position of Deputy Director of Education within RBWM. He currently trains all governors within maintained schools and Academies and has a wide skill set that enables him to hold the school to account for the pupils it serves.

Clive is passionate about all children being able to learn in a safe environment and being able to ensure they have all the tools they need to develop in their education.

Ann Crittenden

Anne spent her working life in education. Before retiring in 2013, she spent seven years as head of English at St Peter's Middle School, Old Windsor. As a regular member of St Mary's church, White Waltham, she was asked to become a Foundation Governor, following her retirement from full-time teaching. Anne is happy to bring that experience to support her current role as a governor.

Rachel Evans

I am currently the School Business Manager at The Pines School in Bracknell which has seen a huge transformation in the last couple of years. I have worked in education for nearly 10 years across several very different settings. I have also previously been a governor for Holly Spring Primary. I hope that the experience that I have gained along the way will help me support and challenge the leaders at White Waltham to ensure that they are supporting your children to achieve the best possible outcomes. I love spending time with my family & friends walking our dog, Delilah at the beach and cooking delicious food!

Ester Schoeman

I am delighted to be joining the governing body as a Christian governor. In my professional life, I work as an Associate Director of Statistical Programming at a pharmaceutical company. I have been a Christian since childhood and an active member of St. Mary's Church of England in Maidenhead since 2009.

As a mother whose children have attended White Waltham in the past, I feel a very special connection to the school and its community. I am passionate about Christian values and priorities, and I look forward to supporting the school in embedding these within its community so that children can flourish both academically and spiritually.

Outside of work, I enjoy listening to music, reading, spending time with my family and friends, and I can often be found on long walks with my two dogs (and my cat, who also thinks he is a dog!).
